WATERMARK VARIETIES

It is of fundamental importance to know whether a watermark variety is from a sheet, a booklet or a roll, and also to know if it is a normal form of issue, an error, or some kind of experiment.

Inverted watermarks

The majority of inverted watermarks come from booklets and are not errors but a result of the normal plate layout used in the manufacture of booklets. However, inverted watermarks from normal sheet printings are errors (e.g. N11a).

Reversed and Inverted-and-Reversed

These are errors.

Sideways watermarks

These usually come from sideways-delivery rolls and were a normal form of issue. The notable exceptions are the 1911 ½d die 1B (N2b) and the ½d and 1d Multiple Cypher (N6d and N13d) which were issued in sheet form and are probably experimental.

No watermark

Here, a distinction should be made between no watermark stamps in complete sheets (e.g. 1912–22 1½d brown N18a) and similar varieties arising from misplaced watermarks, which are less significant (e.g. 1912–24 ½d green, N14a).
